

Benjamin Franklin

Benjamin Franklin proved that electricity was present in lightning through his kite experiment. He started the first library and the first volunteer fire department in America.